

Symposium Life Long Learning in Health

Friday 11 June 2010
Faculty of Health Medicine and Life Sciences

In honour of
Dr. Jos Moust (Department of Educational Development and Research) and
Drs. André Meijer (Department of International Health)

12.00 Registration

12.45 - 13.00 Opening

Prof.dr. Cees van der Vleuten, Maastricht University

13.00 – 13.30 Problem-based Learning: Roots, History and Future

Prof.dr. Henk Schmidt, Erasmus University Rotterdam

13.30 – 14.00 Generic Competences and their Role in the Labour Market

Dr. Christoph Meng, Research Centre for Education and the Labour Market (ROA), Maastricht University

14.00 – 14.30 Competences in Public Health – a Challenge for Life Long Learning

Dr. Kasia Czabanowska, Maastricht University

14.30 – 15.00 Research on Instructional Design for Life Long Learning

Prof.dr. Jeroen van Merriënboer, Maastricht University

15.00 – 15.30 Break

15.30 – 16.00 Positioning Life Long Learning in the Educational Market

Prof.dr. Niek Klazinga, Academic Workplace AMC-NSPOH, Amsterdam

16.00 – 16.30 Life Long Learning and the Integration of the Concept of Evidence

Prof.dr. Wim Groot, Maastricht University

As off 16.30 Farewell André Meijer and Jos Moust

17.30 Reception and Drinks

The symposium is a joint effort of the Department of Educational Development and Research and the Department of International Health – Faculty of Health, Medicine and Life Sciences.

Venue: Randwyck Campus, Debyeplein 1, room D.001 of Maastricht University, Maastricht, The Netherlands.

For further information and registration - preferably before May 21 - please contact:
Mrs. Lilian Swaen at: l.swaen@educ.unimaas.nl